Esboco Interiors

Designer: Nini Andrade Silva. Company: Esboco Interiors, Madeira, Portugal. Work: Both residential and commercial projects that include hotels, restaurants and bars. Signature: I always use white, create simple lines and use warm materials. My friends call me 'Ninimalist'. Colour: I love white, because it makes you feel good whether you are happy or not. White is the mother of all colours. Best idea: My bedroom. I have the bath behind my bed with a glass screen between the two. The bed is positioned so that I can see the view of the sea. Big break: Because I live on an island, everybody knows and trusts me. Biggest influence: Peace, light, comfort and the energy in a house. I am becoming more and more of a spiritualist. Motivation: The fact that my clients trust me. New directions: Becoming more soft and comfortable in my approach to both minimalism and design. Favourite painting: Not one, just every one of Picasso's paintings. Favourite movie star: I have three. Jack Nicholson is strange, Harrison Ford seems like a simple person and I admire Meryl Streep because she looks strong. Favourite country: Madeira, because it is home. Free time: I paint huge canvases, the subject of which are pebbles. My dream is to start a foundation for the poor children living on the streets. To shop: Calvin Klein in New York for both what you can buy and how the shop looks and Donna Karan in London. She is my favourite fashion designer. Pet hates: Over-decoration and small objects.

'White is the mother of all colours.'
